U.S. Senator Bill Cohen was the guest speaker at Gould Academy's commencement exercises Saturday.

Sen. Cohen talks to Gould grads

Gould Academy's 152nd graduation took place Saturday under sunny skies. The warm weather was ideal for a picnic buffet provided by the dining room staff following the ceremonies.

At the commencement exercises in Bingham Auditorium, the speaker was U.S. Senator William S. Cohen, who told the 65 graduates and two post-graduates that the future of the country and the world and themselves was in their own hands. The Bangor native, who has books of poetry and politics to his credit—in addition to his record as a senator—confided that the future doesn't always turn out as planned. He told the group he had originally wanted to be a professional basketball player and a Latin

2 candidates in race for Andover selectman

The statewide primary election, on June 14, will also be the time for Andover voters to select a person to replace Raymond Hutchins on the Board of Selectmen.

Mr. Hutchins has tendered his resignation because he is taking a new job in Portland.

The only official candidate on the ballot is William Masella, of South Arm Road. However, he is being challenged by a write-in candidate, Fred Emerson. The winner will serve out the unexpired term of Mr. Hutchins.

Assistance expenditures in Albany 6 times higher than in other area towns

Per-capita general assistance costs in Albany township are running more than six times higher than in any other area town. In fiscal 1986-87 they totaled nearly $25,000, while in the four years prior to that, they averaged nearly $17,000. They are currently running at similarly high levels.

General assistance figures compiled by the state lump the two unorganized townships of Albany and Mason together, but both the past and current general assistance administrators for the townships report that nearly all the assistance goes to Albany residents. The population of the two unorganized townships is just approximately 350 people.

In comparison, the second highest level of general assistance spending in an area town was in West Paris, where $4,000 was disbursed during fiscal 1986-87. West Paris has over 1,300 people, however.

The total general assistance costs for all neighboring towns during the period was less than $10,000. In Bethel, pop. 2,340 (1980 census), welfare invoices for the fiscal year amounted to $2,083; in Woodstock, pop. 1,087—$1,324; in Greenwood, pop. 653—$610; in Andover, pop. 850—$635; in Newry, pop. 235—$1,082; and in West Paris, pop. 1,390—$4,041.

The reasons for the disparity in levels of assistance are not clear. The poverty level in the two townships is somewhat higher than in the region as a whole, but not so much so as to account for more than a small portion of the disparity. According to the 1980 census, 27 people in the two townships were below the poverty level, compared to 122 in Bethel, 65 in

Lakes Association hears expert on regulating boating on local ponds

At the Greenwood-Woodstock Lakes Association meeting last Saturday morning, Larry Cummings, Chief Warden of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, spoke about the difficulties of enforcing laws regulating boat use on the lakes.

Pointing out that the department has only five wardens in Oxford County, so that only three would be working on any given day, Col. Cummings encouraged local communities to help in enforcing state fishing and boating laws.

The department is severely limited in what it can do, Col. Cummings said, because the only money available comes from fees. No money comes from the state's general funds. He said that an unsuccessful effort was made this year to

The Board and staff cordially invite the public to attend.

THE LAST LAUGH—"Come up here and let Helen have it," master of ceremonies Rodney Abbott challenged the audience at Helen Berry's retirement roast Friday evening. But after 25 years in front of classes, Mrs. Berry had no trouble holding her own with the would-be roasters. Here, she breaks

Students & colleagues fete Helen Berry on her retirement from Telstar

The teacher was on the hot seat at Telstar Regional High School Friday evening, as more than 100 of Helen Berry's friends, colleagues and present and former students turned out to launch her into retirement.

Mrs. Berry was the butt of much retirement-roast humor, but the enduring affection of the audience for the veteran teacher shone through every joke and anecdote.

"The stamp you've placed on our characters doesn't look like a dollar sign," former student Mike Davis said. "Human integrity is your legacy to us."

Fellow English teacher Rodney Abbott, a long-time colleague, was the evening's master of ceremonies. He set the tone for the tributes in his opening remarks. Gesturing to the head table Mrs. Berry shared with her husband "Bill" and Telstar Principal Tod Davis, Mr. Abbott said: "It's important to recognize honor and virtue where they are

Planning Board OKs mini-mall as business block

The Bethel Planning Board last Wednesday night approved plans for the conversion of the Bethel mini-mall to office, retail and restaurant space.

According to plans presented by developers Carl and Linda Hansen, the mall, located at the intersection of Route 26 and Cross Street, will be renovated and renamed the Bethel Business Center.

In his presentation to the board, Mr. Hansen stressed the importance of the location in establishing a first impression of the town. "The emphasis would be on establishing an impression for those entering Bethel on Route 26 that Bethel is appealing and has an active business climate," he said, reading from a letter to the board. "We have an opportunity to make a statement that gives a first impression, because the corner has such prominence in the traffic pattern."

Work on the project will begin as soon as possible.

Al Saunders ruled to be eligible for bail

Alfred Saunders, of Bethel, awaiting trial on the charge of murdering his second wife, Joan, in 1981—is eligible for bail, a superior court judge ruled yesterday (Tuesday), re-affirming his preliminary ruling of a week ago. The terms set for release on bail were stiffened to include the condition that the defendant neither possess nor consume alcohol.

Saunders third wife, Pat, testified in his behalf Tuesday, telling the court if he were freed on bail she wanted him back. Pat Saunders recently became the guardian of his sons, Jason, 11, and Andrew, 9. She testified that she and Mr. Saunders have been reconciled, and if he were freed they planned to build a house together.

Mr. Saunders' fourth—and present—wife, Rita, had earlier signed a petition for his release, but she has since begun divorce proceedings and requested that her name, and those of many of her family and friends, no longer be considered part of the petition. At Tuesday's hearing she testified for the state, saying she was afraid of what Mr. Saunders might do if he were released.

Mr. Saunders has been held without bail at the Oxford County Jail since his arrest last August. Joan Saunders' body was discovered beneath the basement floor in the Bird Hill residence they shared at the time of her disappearance.

At a hearing last Tuesday, Oxford County Superior Court Justice Carl Bradford ruled that Mr. Saunders was eligible for bail. But that decision was temporarily set aside last Thursday when the state argued that he no longer owned two pieces of real estate in Locke Mills and Bethel—thus had fewer strong ties to the community and less motivation to stay here and await trial.

The real estate in question—it was revealed yesterday—had been transferred to Rita Saunders, who is seeking the divorce. She said Tuesday she would seek to keep possession of them.

Assistant Attorney General Rae Ann French argued that this reduced the probability of Mr. Saunders' remaining for his trial.

Human Services needs to act

As reported on page 1, something strange is going on in Albany Township.

Year after year, general assistance funds given out in Albany run way ahead of similar funds given out in neighboring towns. In fiscal 1986-87—the most recent year for which figures are available—$25,000 was disbursed in general assistance in Albany. In the four years prior, an average of $17,000 a year was disbursed.

For comparison, West Paris officials disbursed $4,000 to needy residents of that town in 1986-87. West Paris has over 1,300 people; Albany and Mason combined have somewhat over 350.

The Department of Human Services told The Citizen there were 152 applications for assistance in Albany in fiscal 1986-87. D.H.S. officials would not divulge how many people made these applications—whether it was one person who put in 152 applications for assistance or 152 different people who put in one application each, or—as is most likely—somewhere in between. Nor would the D.H.S. tell The Citizen the names of those who had received general assistance. Thus, The Citizen's investigation could go no further.

However, it is clear that the situation does need further looking into. When one small community, year after year, uses up more money in general assistance than the combined total of the assistance given out by the five towns of SAD #44, something seems amiss. Since the D.H.S. won't allow The Citizen to look into the matter further, it is up to the state bureaucrats themselves to look into it. And then to give local taxpayers an explanation.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

When the U.S. Department of Energy DOE picked up their plans for nuclear waste dumps in Sebago Lake and Bottle Lake and left with their tails between their legs, some of us thought we had rid Maine of the threat of nuclear dumping for good. How wrong we were! All along, a whole other set of nuclear dump plans has been waiting quietly on the back burner.

Now that Maine Yankee and their friends in Augusta feel that they are safe just the danger of last year's referendum on nuclear waste production, they are ready to let these plans come to a boil. Things will probably be boiling in pretty good shape at the public hearing on the "siting criteria" for Maine's new nuclear dump on Thursday, June 2, at the Augusta Civic Center. Hearing opens at 9:30 a.m. Things move quickly after that. Thursday's hearing will be your last chance to testify on the public record before they actually begin selecting sites.

There is a slight difference between this fight and the battle against the DOE. The type of nuclear waste involved is different, since this dump will be for all types of nuclear waste except the used nuclear fuel rods that the DOE proposed to dump here. The nuclear dumpers call this waste "low-level" nuclear waste. It is waste that you will think that it is relatively harmless stuff. Nothing could be further from the truth. So-called "low-level" nuclear waste contains all the same deadly radioactive poisons as the high level nuclear waste that the DOE wanted to dump here—just not so heavily concentrated. For example, "ion exchange resins," which result from the filtering of cooling water at nuclear reactors, contain so much radioactive iodine 129, with a radioactive half-life of 15.7 million years, that they will remain hazardous for at least 100,000 years.

But press reports on the subject of so-called "low-level" waste have often been misleading and occasionally been downright inaccurate. Too often we hear this variety of nuclear waste referred to as consisting of clothing, tools, and slightly contaminated materials or some other innocuous-sounding phrase. This contains a grain of truth, since all types of nuclear waste except used fuel rods are included in this category and there is a quantity of clothing and used equipment dumped as nuclear waste because it has become so saturated with radioactivity as to be too dangerous to use. But these items do not constitute the bulk of the radioactivity that would be buried at a nuclear waste dump such as the one proposed for Maine.

The above mentioned "ion exchange resins," for instance, contribute about 60 percent of the radioactivity generated annually as "low-level" waste to a nuclear reactor of Maine Yankee's type. These resins are so radioactively "hot" that they have been known to break down and eat through high-density plastic and even stainless steel containers following burial in a nuclear waste dump. Another major portion of the nuclear waste generated annually at a reactor is known as "concentrated liquids," which generally come in the form of a thick, highly

To the Editor:

There will not soon be another teacher like Helen Berry. My first thoughts of her always revolve around the Drama Club. It is rare enough that a teacher was willing to put everything she had into her classes without finding that little bit extra to run an enthusiastic, productive and—well, I'll say it—a damned good Drama Club.

It wasn't easy either. She had to have the patience of Mother Theresa to tolerate the antics of the likes of Robert O'Brien and Elton Cole. She was brave enough to poke fun at other members of the faculty during the "Razzberry" awards and hoodlums enough to take some ribbing herself.

From those days I learned character traits that are invaluable to me now: self-expression, cooperation, presence and, most importantly, not to take myself too seriously.

Just because my first thoughts of Helen Berry are of Drama Club days, does not mean for an instant that I don't remember some wonderful class time. Long before it was "run" to encourage participation in classwork, when it was still a teacher's job to "just teach," Helen Berry was giving us Shakespeare, Shaw and Poe as they were meant to be—alive and breathing.

There were some very special moments. There is no small trick in delivering Juliet's lines atop a fragile desk to Rodney Abbott's enameled and overplayed Romeo.

Casting was always her forte. Even now, if you can, a brawny member of the football team bringing an entirely new interpretation to the role of Henry Higgins in "Pygmalion."

I have tried to inject a little humor into this letter, but there is one thing I want to be taken with the utmost seriousness: Helen Berry has given to her students things which they will carry with them their entire lives. For that she is to be thanked from the bottom of all of our hearts. I would like to suggest that the Auditorium at Telstar be renamed the Helen Berry Auditorium in her honor.

Helen, thank you so very much. Love and best wishes for a happy retirement.

radioactive boric acid sludge. These sludges may spontaneously generate gas bubbles which burst the containers which are designed to prevent radioactive leaks. These facts go a long way toward explaining the history of disastrous spills and rumors cleanup costs that have plagued the few nuclear dumps that have operated in this country.

But the vast bulk of the radioactive waste which would be buried at Maine's proposed nuclear dump would not come in the regular stream that Maine Yankee pumps out on an annual basis. It would come all at once, at the end of the lifespan of the nuclear reactor presently estimated to be roughly at the year 2000. At that time the entire reactor becomes nuclear waste and must be dismantled and dumped somewhere.

If the filter resins and concentrated liquids sound dangerous, the "low-level" nuclear waste which will come out of Maine Yankee when it is dismantled known as "decommissioning waste" is truly heinous. As a result of constant radioactive bombardment, common teacher.

While warning the graduating class that they faced large problems—everything from road repairs to inadequate sewer systems to the dangers of terrorism and nuclear holocaust—he offered the solace that every age always considers its problems the very worst that anyone could ever conceive. "As the world spins like a ball on the finger of science, it's time to sit back and take a long view."

By the light of his long view, he concluded, "The future's not going to be any more difficult than the past; it's just going to be different."

He urged the graduating class to do the best they were able to at what they liked best. And he advised them, "Don't measure your success by your bank balance, and don't measure America's by its GNP."

He said America's strength was in its system of free inquiry and self-examination. Last summer's Iran-Contra hearings—in which he took an active role as part of the committee looking into the scandal—showed the world how a real democracy functions, he said.

Valedictorian Glen McLaughlin spoke about the need of a caring environment of students are to want to learn, and he commended the Gould administration, faculty and staff for providing such an environment for him and his fellow graduates.

The general flow of commencement was interrupted briefly by Headmaster Bill Clough to pay tribute to two retiring faculty members: Al Barth and James Fiske, both of whom received personalized rocking chairs to use in retirement.

Earlier, at the baccalaureate service in the West Parish Congregational Church, part-time Bethel resident and NTL chairman-elect Dr. Charles Seashore strung together an assortment of reminiscences concerning Bethel, Gould, growing up, and working with the academy's Four Points program—to the delight of students and parents.

Given his background in studying human interaction, it was not surprising that he had stressed that, in contrast to Sen. Cohen's advice on being the best person, Dr. Seashore told the graduating class to "network" with others. "Networking is the new freedom, the new democracy," he said.

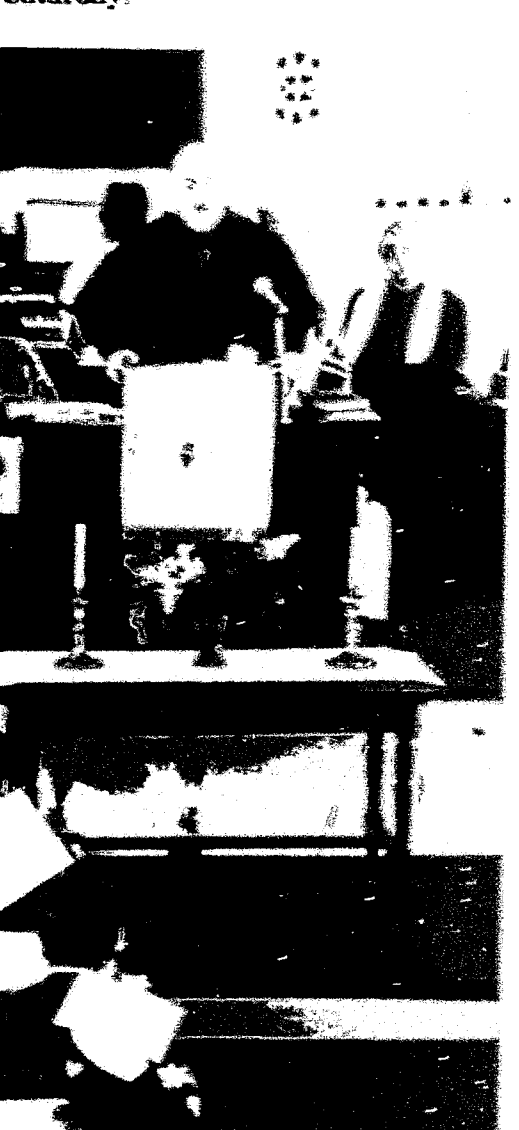

As for the rest, the lessons we're taught in kindergarten should suffice to see us through life successfully. He quoted an essay that appeared many years ago in a small newspaper in Kansas in which the essayist had recounted the valuable lessons he had learned in kindergarten, including taking an afternoon nap, drinking cold milk and warm cookies, being nice to others, and holding hands when going outside. Dr. Seashore emphasized that advice for the graduates: "When you go out into the world, it's best to hold hands and stick together."

Dr. Seashore recounted for the audience how NTL had first selected Bethel, in 1947, as the site for its group dynamics workshops. The founders of NTL were looking for "a cultural island," he said—a place difficult to get to and even more difficult to get out of. The island should be a place in which to learn, and then go forth from—to go out into the world and to make a difference.

He said that is what NTL has tried to do, and he suggested that that is what Gould Academy has tried to do with its students. He pointed out, however, that NTL keeps its students only a few weeks. "In your case it's four years," he said.

For the 162nd group of graduates of the school, the four years was over on Saturday.

DR. CHARLES SEASHORE, of NTL, was the Baccalaureate speaker at the graduation of Gould Academy's Class of 1988. He enthralled the audience with anecdotes from his own history with Bethel and with Gould, and imparted some advice, such as stick together and hold hands.

metals in the reactor parts are actually changed into highly dangerous radioactive elements. We are not talking here about "slightly contaminated materials." The metal itself in these "irradiated components" is often putting out a radiation dose of 20,000 rads per hour; an 80-second exposure to this type of dose is enough to kill a person. This radioactivity is long-lived, too. Some of the radioactive elements in this metal include Nickel-54 with a half-life of 20,000 years and Nickel-59 with a half-life of 80,000 years.

There is so much at stake! Our land, our homes, our future and our children.

Please come to the public hearing and make your voice heard. If you cannot come to the hearing, write to the DEP and let them know how you feel. If we don't speak up for Maine, who will?

Alva Morrison

Saunders' hearing

Mr. Saunders' new defense attorney, E. Jim Burke, of Lewiston, countered by calling a number of witnesses, including Pat Saunders, to testify to their business and social relationships with Mr. Saunders.

Attorney Burke also called James Wymant, of Woodstock; Richard Wright, of Bethel; and Mary Jane and Harold Gaudreau, of Bethel—all of whom said they have agreed to put their property up as security for Mr. Saunders. Calling the bail terms "the most stringent I've ever set," Judge Bradford ruled that Mr. Saunders' ties to the community were well enough established to warrant bail.

Mr. Saunders must now raise the $350,000 bail—$175,000 in cash and the balance covered by $700,000 of real estate security.

Following the hearing Mr. Saunders said he was "about half way there" toward raising the bail, but he said he had no idea how long it would take him to raise the balance.

Seniors' hearing

Seniors' new defense attorney, calling the bail terms "the most stringent I've ever set," Judge Bradford ruled that Mr. Saunders' ties to the community were well enough established to warrant bail.
Mr. Saunders must now raise the $350,000 bail—$175,000 in cash and the balance covered by $200,000 of real estate security.
Following the hearing Mr. Saunders said he was "about half way there" toward raising the bail, but he said he had no idea how long it would take him to raise the balance.

The Bethel Board of Appeals will hold a public hearing on Thursday, June 9, 1988 at 7:00 p.m. in the Lecture Room Telstar High School, Rte. 26, on the following appeals from the decisions of the Bethel Planning Board. The appeals are pursuant to Section X.A. Town of Bethel Site Plan Review Ordinance.

- The appeal of Brian Strickland from the April 13, 1988 decision of the Bethel Planning Board that the change of use from a restaurant to a barber shop and office space for an electrical business does come under the Site Plan Review Ordinance (ref. Section III A. and Section XII A. 38 of the ordinance.)
- The appeal of Peter Robichaud from the May 11, 1988 decision of the Planning Board that the change of use from a restaurant to a video store does come under the Site Plan Review Ordinance (ref. Section III A. and Section XII A. 38 of the ordinance.)
- The appeal of Peter Robichaud from the April 13, 1988 decision of the Planning Board that his boarding home in West Bethel does come under the Site Plan Review Ordinance and should be reviewed by the Planning Board.

ON THE BETHEL COMMON, the Telstar band and marching unit, plus Boy Scouts, Legionnaires, and a large turnout of ordinary citizens, held solemn ceremonies Monday commemorating those Americans who have fallen in battle.

THE LOCKE MILLS LEGION led the parade in Bryant Pond—as well as in Locke Mills—on Memorial Day. The post and unit also decorated graves throughout the area.

AT MEMORIAL DAY SERVICES in West Paris, the color guard of Leslie Thurlow, Albert Penley Jr., Wayne Penley, Lloyd Record and Roy Fowler stood at parade rest amid the gravestones of the village cemetery as services were conducted.

displayed. Here is someone who has faced down adversities most of us would have succumbed to, whose passion for life has been an inspiration to us all—Francis 'Hi' Berry.
Mrs. Berry has taught English at Telstar since the school opened in 1968, and prior to that taught remedial reading in district schools and high school in Blue Hill.
Maine State Representative Jeff Mills, of Bethel, reminisced about meeting her when he was just a 1st-grader at the Woodstock School. "I had a speech impediment, and I hated to talk in public," he said, "so they sent me to a special teacher," he said pointing to Mrs. Berry—"and look what you created."

Mrs. Berry plans to devote more time now to the Lone Pine Camping Area, in Newry, which she and her husband have run for the past 20 years. And she plans to travel: "Someplace warm. I want to be able to get out of here in March," she confided.
For her time at Telstar she has only warm feelings. "I'm going to miss it like crazy," she said, "especially the kids. I've loved every minute of it. I'm a very lucky person."

Albany assistance

Woodstock, 24 in Greenwood, 49 in Andover, 7 in Newry and 68 in West Paris.
If the per-capita general assistance level is calculated using only those people below the poverty level in each town (rather than the entire population), the expenditure would be approximately $925 per person in the two townships, $17 in Woodstock, $27 in Greenwood, $13 in Andover, $154 in Newry and $59 in West Paris.

[The comparative figures reported in this article have been compiled from reports published by the U.S. Census Bureau, the Maine State Planning Office, and the Maine Department of Human Services. Because of differences in methodology and timeliness among the reports, the figures are, of necessity, approximations (for instance, the population of the various towns would have changed in different years between 1980, the year of the census, and 1987, the year for which the assistance expenditures are reported). The figures do, however, provide a reliable gauge of the relative levels of expenditure among the towns and townships.]

According to Gary Veilleux, general assistance supervisor for the Department of Human Services, there were 152 applications for general assistance in the two townships during the 1986-1987 fiscal year. The applicants received on average $171 in each case.

Veilleux could provide no explanation for why the assistance level in the townships was so much higher than the levels in other area towns.
In most area towns general assistance decisions are made by the selectmen or town manager. In the two unorganized townships, however, general assistance is distributed by an administrator, who reports directly to the D.H.S.

Mary Fox, of Stoneham, was the general assistance administrator for the townships for eight years, until March 1 of this year, when she resigned in order to devote more time to another job.
In a telephone interview, Mrs. Fox said that each month a core group of 16 to 20 Albany families or households would apply for assistance, usually to pay for such basic necessities as food, rent and heat.

She noted, in addition, two instances in 1985 in which general assistance was used to pay medical expenses "in the tens of thousands of dollars."
Such unusual medical costs would have the effect of raising significantly the townships' total (and per-capita) assistance figures. Yet, even in the four years prior to 1988, the average assistance expenditure for the townships was nearly $17,000 per year.

Mrs. Fox also pointed out a changing pattern in the age groups applying for general assistance. In her first years on the job, she said, assistance applications were most frequently from retired people on fixed incomes or from the disabled. In recent years, however, more and more young people, frequently transients, were applying for assistance.
Mrs. Fox characterized many of them as people "who don't want to get off their as possible, Mr. Hansen said, with the first tenants moving in as early as this month.

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce has discussed renting an office at the Route 26 side of the building, although the Chamber's Board of Directors has not yet made a final decision on the matter.

If the Chamber were to move in, Mr. Hansen said, they would want to do so in time for the summer tourist season.

Mr. Hansen said that prospective tenants are well aware of the flooding problem at the location. Safe and readily accessible storage space, both in a watertight room and above the high water mark, has been built into the design of the project, he said. In addition, Hansen and Hansen Co. will be responsible for developing an emergency plan and for implementing that plan in the event of flooding.

The flooding problem will provide a possible theme for the names of the businesses in the complex. "I think you'll see a sense of humor in our relationship to the floodplain," he told the board.

Because the building already exists, the board waived greenspace and setback requirements for the project. The only conditions attached to the approval involved completion of the paperwork concerning financial responsibility and proof of ownership.

The board discussed at length the traffic flow implications of the project, but concluded—with some uncertainty—that the Department of Transportation approval granted when the building was built in 1977 was all that was legally required.

"I'll do whatever's necessary to make that problem [traffic] function properly," Mr. Hansen said during the discussion, "but I'd hate to see the project held up for a problem that doesn't exist."

Board member Ginger Kelly agreed: "I'd hate to be obstructionist and hold things up just for the sake of holding them up," she said.

The vote to approve the project was unanimous.

In other action, the board discussed a letter from Attorney Michael O'Donnell regarding the Appeals Board meeting scheduled for June 9, at 7 p.m., at Telstar Regional High School.

Regarding Mr. O'Donnell's contention that the board has been overreaching in its interpretation of the Site Plan Review Ordinance, especially as regards change-of-use situations, board member Summer Burgess said: "This sort of thing is bound to happen. It might as well happen now."

A number of members contended that the length of the approval process—a major concern of applicants—has been greatly reduced since the board hired a planning assistant.

"I think it's to our advantage that [approval] no longer takes three months," Mrs. Kelly said.

Robert Sessions, of Norway, finally agreed to take over as administrator. He currently sees assistance applications for two hours a week at the Stoneham municipal building.
Mr. Sessions reports that the average number of applicants he sees, as well as the average payment he disburses, seem to be continuing at the level reported for the past year.

get money from the state, but "they aren't anxious to give us any funding."

He said not enough patrolling is done, and because of increased use of lakes and ponds, "it's going to get worse." The new legislation regarding lakes deals only with environmental issues, he said. Boating and fishing laws remain as before.

Col. Cummings answered questions about limiting the speed and horsepower of boats on the lakes by pointing out that towns cannot themselves limit boat or motor size, but that any group or township can petition the commissioner to limit the size of motors allowed on a lake. Some lakes do have such restrictions, and the commissioner can impose them, usually after a public hearing.

He said townships cannot regulate the speed at which a boat can be driven. Enforcement would be too difficult, he said, because the equipment for measuring speeds is very expensive and because many lake shorelines represent a number of townships.

Responding to concerns about safety in swimming areas, Col. Cummings said boats of any horsepower can be used anywhere in lakes as long as they are not towing water skiers. Boats towing skiers must stay 200 feet from the shore except when picking up and dropping off skiers. Individuals cannot block off areas for swimming, but can indicate an area used for swimming by putting a buoy no more than 100 feet from shore, unless a permit is obtained from the Department of Parks and Recreation to go beyond 100 feet.

A member of the audience noted that when Woodstock put out $150 worth of buoys to protect a children's swimming area, someone stole the buoys.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kallis have returned from a trip to Connecticut to observe their 49th anniversary and visit their daughter and husband, Tina and Terry Laeborg. On their way home they breakfasted at an inn where Paul Newman was also a guest.

Staff at the Bethel Area Health Center recently held a graduation ceremony for all those who participated in our Babysitting Program.

Jeanne Thornton, LPN, was the instructor for the course. Basic elements of CPR and first aid were taught, as well as areas of child development from birth to five-and-a-half years and entailed 10 hours of instruction.

Those who graduated are Jennifer Bowie, Sarah Coolidge, Heather Harrison, Melissa Howe, Jaime Lapham, Jamie Lewis, Esther Morin and Cheryl Lynn Myers.

Their phone numbers are listed in the waiting room at the Health Center. These girls will now be available for summer jobs. Anyone who is looking for a babysitter is welcome to drop in at the center to get available numbers.

Telstar students shine on math and science test

The physics students at Telstar Regional High School scored an average of 9.87 points higher than their average New England counterparts on the United States Navy's Advanced Placement Science and Mathematics Test.

At the invitation of Timothy Kersey, Telstar physics instructor, the Navy's Advanced Placement Test was administered by Ray LaFreniere, education specialist of Portland, Navy Recruiting Command, on April 25.

The Greenwood Historical Society will meet Wednesday, June 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the Society building on Main Street.

The Greenwood Fire Department will meet Tuesday, June 7, at 7 p.m. at the Fire Station.

Mary Mills has returned home from the hospital and is recuperating at home. She celebrated her birthday on May 22.

Wilfred and Lillian Noyes, of Wilton, and Daniel Cole were expected to have supper with Charlotte Cole Saturday evening, and then attend the old time dance at the Town Hall.

Barbara and Gilbert Dunham have been on a trip to Virginia the past week. Ralph Mills, Colchester, Vt., came Friday to spend part of his Memorial Day holiday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mills, and to work on the roof of his camp in West Greenwood.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chase and Chrystal and Helen Chase spent the Memorial weekend at their camps on South Pond. Helen and a neighbor, Sheila, walked to see Charlotte Cole at her home Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gaudet, Lisa and friend Pam, Yarmouth, came Sunday to visit Bertha Flanders. Thelma and the other women attended a baby shower for Velora Kimball Tuominen at the Sunday School room.

Mrs. Charles Morse came over from South Rumbold to attend Velora Tuominen's baby shower, also.

Lynn and Mark Crawford, Auburn, are spending the weekend at her father's, Elwin Cole's, camp.

Helen Chase and Charlotte Cole visited Dot Durgin and others at the Ledgerview Nursing Home one day last week. They then went on to have supper and play cards with Dora and Elmer Dingley, in West Paris.

The Greenwood Fire Department Auxiliary met Monday evening at the Fire

Art exhibit June 6-11

A SAD #44 student art exhibit, featuring work by students of Arla Patch, will be held at the Moses Mason House June 6-11. There will be an opening reception Monday, June 6, 3-5 p.m.

Station with Flossie Bernier, Sally Melville, Denise Swan, Lorraine Mills and Barbara Dunham present. The meeting was a short one due to the small attendance and lack of business.

North Paris

By EVELINE B. VATCHER

And still it rains. If your garden seeds didn't freeze, maybe they rotted. Heard good reports from the West Summer dance and supper.

Arnold Coffin has pneumonia. His son Stanley visited him Sunday and also called on his Aunt Doris and Uncle Root Lawrence.

Joe and Norman Reidy, Tyngsboro, Mass., came to their trailer on the Trask for the holiday weekend. They had to go home Sunday as Joe had a parade on Monday. He is a retired policeman but works occasionally.

Callers at Lawrences were Mr. and Mrs. Ellery Lawrence, Charles and Melinda, Colie Rolfe and friend, Suzette Keniston and Kyle, Ruby Wing, Vickie Foster and Anne Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott and Joe Kalinowski.

The cemeteries look nice all mowed and newly flowered and flags waving in the breezes.

Eveline was unable to attend the monthly supper. The intense pain in her spine has eased a bit but there are still two large bunches there and pain pills are needed.

Robert Anderson Sr., Burlington, Mass., is spending a week's vacation at his trailer in Bridgton, fishing. The rest of the family will come for the weekend. He spent Monday evening with the Vatchers.

Callers at Dorothy Elliott's were nephew and wife, Bob and Pixy Elliott, and two boys, Marion Ladd and Mary Thurston.

Bus riders to Rumbold on Wednesday were Elizabeth Sennett and Dorothy Elliott.

Anne Fox was shopping in Lewiston recently.

Flora Whitten, Florence Merrill and Anne Fox attended the Senior Citizen dinner at the C.E.B. on Tuesday.

Julie and Norman White were shopping in Norway.

Tenants at the Manor are preparing flower beds for planting.

Alfred Marston, daughter Tiffanie, and son Christopher spent the Memorial weekend with Aunt Florence Hall.

Thought for the day:
The shortest distance between two points is no longer a straight line. It's a remote control unit.

Calvary Congregational Church
Meditation: "My brethren, be strong in the Lord." Eph. 6:10

Morning hymn of praise, "That beautiful name."

Rev. Donald Grover's message: "The works of the Lord." Psalm 111.

The choir sang, "I cannot help but love him."

Missionary moments: A letter was read from John Hasie. June 5 he will be our guest speaker.

New summer hours: 9:30-10:30 a.m. Special recognition was shown to Ellen Greeke, a recent graduate of University of Maine, Farmington.

Pastor Grover read several clippings. Sunday evening service, 7-8 p.m. Singing, a Bible game and Pastor Grover's message: "Reasons and resources." John 20:21.

Notes from the Woodstock Historical Society

Until her death a few years ago, the leader of the Woodstock society was a little old lady in her 90s. Her name was Alice Roosevelt Longworth. The daughter of a President and the wife of a Speaker of the House, she had known generations of Presidents, statesmen and politicians. She was noted for her quick wit and sharp tongue. She did not hesitate to shock and surprise people if she felt like it. No one felt secure in rubbing her, for, after all, who had a better right to disregard the proprieties? She made the rules and she could break them at will. Would we were all as socially secure.

Donations last month came from Larry Billings, Ruby Emery (many items), Polly Croteau and Dr. Chase. Much thanks.

Canadian consular official to speak at Bethel breakfast June 8

Brian Watson, a Canadian consular official, will be the featured speaker at a Chamber of Commerce breakfast meeting next Wednesday, June 8, at 7:30 a.m., in the Bethel Historical Society meeting room.

Mr. Watson will speak on the pending U.S.-Canada Free Trade Agreement, signed by President Reagan and Prime Minister Mulroney in January, and how it will affect Maine's economy.

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce invites all interested persons to come to this session. Coffee and muffins will be served.

SENIOR CITIZEN MENUS

Monday, June 6: Stuffed shells with tomato sauce, wax beans or brussel sprouts, garlic bread, peaches and cookie.

Tuesday, June 7: Shepherd pie, garden salad, corn bread, pineapple ambrosia.

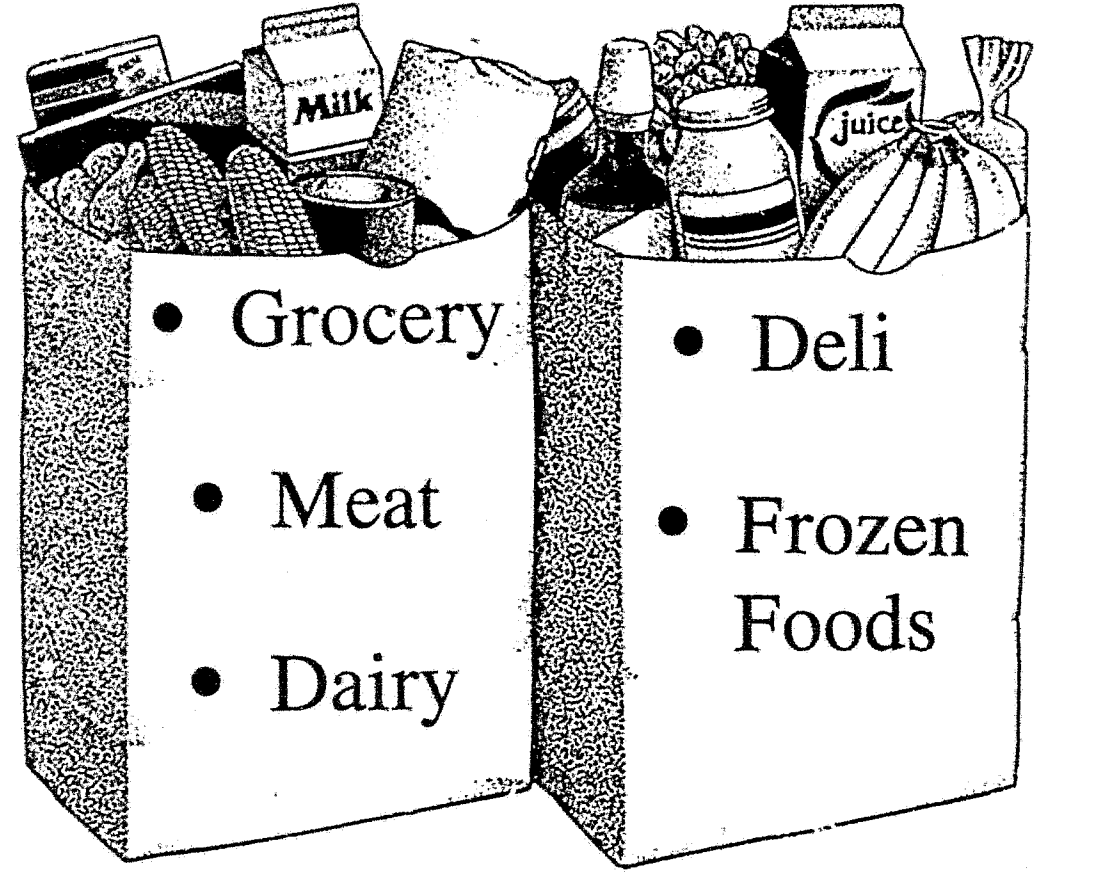

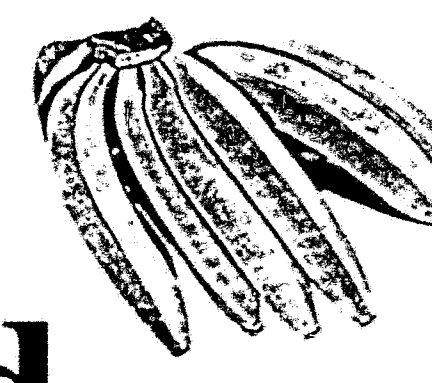

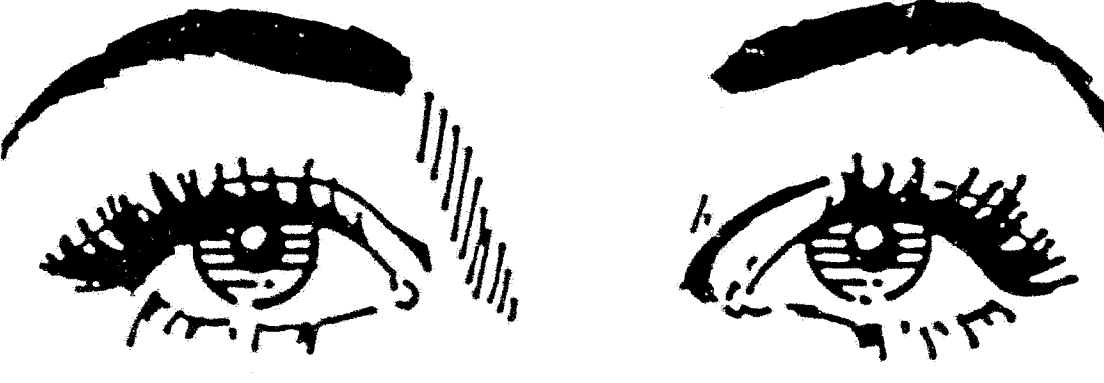

Thursday, June 9: Cream chicken on a biscuit, peas, carrots, bread pudding with topping.

OXFORD POMONA GRANGE

The May meeting of Oxford Pomona Grange was held at Bear River Grange #265, Newry, with the following guest officers for Youth Night. Serving as master was Ken Brewer, with Raymond Tripp Jr., Elaine Brewer, Craig Locke, Randy Jack, Linda Jack, Sheryl Hamlin, Gail Butterfield, Roberta Meserve, Bradley Bisbee, Terry Bisbee, Stacey Bisbee, Kity Davis, Stanley Howe, Lynda LaBree, Mavis Lane, Edna Howes, Lettie Brooks, Jeanne Kimball and Dot Canwell.
Honored guests recognized were Lynda LaBree, chairman of the State Grange community service committee, Mavis Lane, state lecturer committee, Charles Locke, deputy, Craig Locke, youth committee and Roberta Meserve, junior committee.
Bertha Benoit joined Oxford Pomona on a demit. Membership applications were received from Rachel Verrill and Araminta Sawyer of Oxford Grange #46.
C.W.A. Chairman Lil Swallow announced that Frances Allen's sewing entry would go to state judging. Winners of the apple muffin contest in the women's division were Gertrude Wing, Oxford, Gail Butterfield, Lakeside, and Lena Dean, West Paris. For the men, winners were Percy Wing, Oxford, and Raymond Tripp, Bear River.

Olive Davis reported for the scholarship fund.
"Happy birthday" was sung to Lil Swallow and Richard Felt.

Attendance was 63, with Bear River Grange receiving the attendance banner. Chaplain Marian Bennet announced get-well cards being signed for Carl Swallow and Shirley Foster, of Oxford Grange. A sympathy card was sent to Inza Myers, of Pleasant Pond Grange, on the loss of her husband.

A donation from the Youth Fund will be sent for the National Grange Investment in Youth Fund. A donation was also voted for the Maine State Grange deaf activities committee. The C.W.A. will make donations to the Educational Aid Fund and the Howe's Nurses Scholarship Fund of the State Grange.

Earle Hutchinson gave the welcome with Randy Jack giving the response to start the literary program.

All joined in singing "It's a good thing to be a Granger." Ella Jones gave a reading, Carl Brooks entertained with his dancing dolls. Linda and Randy Jack presented a skit.

Dr. Stanley Howe was escorted to the Altar and was presented the Pomona Grange Award for Public Service by Hazel Conant, treasurer of the Maine State Grange. A list of Brother Howe's accomplishments was read showing he deserved to be recognized for his many contributions to the Bethel area.

Winners of the mystery march were Verna Swan, Franklin Grange, Stanley Howe, Alder River Grange, and Georgia Herriek, Oxford Grange.

A reading was given by Lynda LaBree and a stunt by Roberta Meserve.

The closing thought was offered by guest lecturer Elaine Brewer and all joined in singing "Pass it on."
Randy and Linda Jack attended the Assistant Stewards Contest and placed first in their division.

Next meeting will be the Memorial Program and will be held at Frederick Robie Grange, Otisfield Gore, on June 7. A 6:30 supper will precede the 7:30 meeting.

East Bethel

By MYRA FOSTER

Albert Foster has a Brittany Spaniel which someone thoughtfully left off near our house. So if anyone would like a nice, neat, friendly dog, come to see it at the Foster Farm.

Mrs. Emma Ordway, of Gray, visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith over the weekend. They all visited Warren Smith at the Androscoggin Hospital, in Berlin.

Robert Hastings was given a May Basket on his 89th birthday, May 22, by his grandchildren. He also received a birthday cake made by Mrs. Arlene Harrington and given him on May 23 when they had the East Bethel Cemetery clean-up. The others at the clean-up were Alan Howe, Dorothy Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Harrington, Stanley Howe, Albert Foster and Leslie Noyes. After lunch, in the church, there was a meeting of the East Bethel Church Association.

Mrs. Lilian Bartlett, Mrs. Floribel Hannes and Mrs. Florence Hastings attended the meeting of the Bethel Senior Citizens, in Oxford. On their way home they visited several local people at the Ledgewood Nursing Home.

Miss Sandra Cash and Harry Kimball, of Norway, visited Mr. and Mrs. Chester Harrington, Sunday.

Jim Swan and a friend, from Norwich, Conn., called on Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kimball, Friday. Fay Kimball attended a baby shower for Velora Tuominen given by Mrs. Sarah Wynnaught's daughter, Sarah, at the community room in Locke Mills.

My sister and I arrived home May 12 and entered into a new house it seems. June and Clara had papered three rooms, painted one room and three ceilings. John and Dick put down rugs in the livingroom and bedroom and, for a Mother's Day gift, installed three ceiling lights in the kitchen; one has a fan.

Woodstock students earn World Book Encyclopedias

Students of Woodstock School have just completed a highly successful read-along in cooperation with World Book Encyclopedia, Inc. Children read books and solicited sponsors to pledge per book read. As a result of this effort, nearly $1,800 was raised. World Book Encyclopedia then matched an additional 50 percent of the total, resulting in a grand total of $2,700.

Thanks to the students' efforts, each participating classroom in the building will begin next year with a brand new set of encyclopedias. Kindergarten and Grade 1 will have the Childcraft Encyclopedias, while Grades 3, 4 and 5 will enjoy a set of World Book Encyclopedias. In addition, Grade 2 will also receive the Childcraft 5 volume supplement for raising the most in the school.

Individual participants reading 10 books and getting 10 sponsors, will receive a gold medal from World Book. Students with eight books and eight sponsors will receive a silver medal. All other students participating will receive a certificate of participation for their efforts. These awards will be distributed on June 10 at the Awards Day Ceremonies at the Woodstock School.

Woodstock School

By DIXIE INMAN

Step-up Day—all grades move ahead to their next grade. The new 1988/89 Kindergarten will attend school starting at 7:45 till 10:45. Hot Lunch will be available at 70 cents for this year's Kindergarten students who step ahead to 1st Grade for a full day. Grade 6 will be attending Telstar Middle School.

The staff of the Woodstock School will be sponsoring a potluck supper on June 1 at 5:30 to honor the efforts of our many volunteers. Hopefully as many of our volunteers will come as possible. It will begin with presentations at 5:30 and a delicious potluck supper will follow. Some of the many jobs they've done include tutoring, chaperoning trips and dances, classroom volunteering, guest speaking, helping run our library, donating materials, baking, helping with parties, being room parents, listening to students read, raising money and planning special events for our kids. The list is endless and their work is invaluable.

June 2 the 3rd Grade of CPS will be visiting Woodstock's 3rd Grade. They have been faithfully writing their penpals throughout the school year. Parents are welcome to join in for this end-of-the-activity. The festivities will start promptly at 11 a.m. in the multipurpose room. The 5th Grade students are invited to a cookout at Mrs. Robin's home, in Hanover. Four room mothers will be picking students up at school at 2 p.m. and deliver them home after the cookout, which will end about 5:30 p.m. Rain date, Thursday, June 9.

The last meeting for Brownie Troop #706 was Sunday, May 29, at Woodstock School. An awards ceremony was held. There will be no more Cub Scout meetings with Mrs. Adams.

Crescent Park weekly

By ALEX GILLIES

Last Thursday all of CPS got to listen to Jim Chandler talk about the Oxford County Environmental Committee. He is going to help the 5th-graders plant three Colorado Blue Spruce.

On Friday there was a science fair. Each 4th-grader had a report, a poster and a model. I don't think I should announce the winners because they'll be in the paper anyway, but here are some people that did great without prizes:

Billie Meader and John Tester were partners in their science project. Their topic was maple syrup. They had a movie showing them making maple syrup, a display of all the tools needed, a good report and a poster.

Carlin Kavanagh and Nate McVey did a project on lizards and salamanders. For their model they had a salamander and some other kinds of lizards. That was great.

CAR WASH THIS SATURDAY

There will be a Spanish Exchange car wash/bottle drive on Saturday, June 4, 9 a.m. to noon, at the SAD #4 bus garage, rain or shine.

This is the last major fundraiser before the Bethel area youngsters go to Mijas, Spain on June 20. This is a return visit, in exchange for the visit made here last summer by students from Mijas. The program is sponsored by the Bethel Rotary Club.

Woodstock School

Step-up Day—all grades move ahead to their next grade. The new 1988/89 Kindergarten will attend school starting at 7:45 till 10:45. Hot Lunch will be available at 70 cents for this year's Kindergarten students who step ahead to 1st Grade for a full day. Grade 6 will be attending Telstar Middle School.

The staff of the Woodstock School will be sponsoring a potluck supper on June 1 at 5:30 to honor the efforts of our many volunteers. Hopefully as many of our volunteers will come as possible. It will begin with presentations at 5:30 and a delicious potluck supper will follow. Some of the many jobs they've done include tutoring, chaperoning trips and dances, classroom volunteering, guest speaking, helping run our library, donating materials, baking, helping with parties, being room parents, listening to students read, raising money and planning special events for our kids. The list is endless and their work is invaluable.

June 2 the 3rd Grade of CPS will be visiting Woodstock's 3rd Grade. They have been faithfully writing their penpals throughout the school year. Parents are welcome to join in for this end-of-the-year activity. The festivities will start promptly at 11 a.m. in the multipurpose room. The 5th Grade students are invited to a cookout at Mrs. Robin's home, in Hanover. Four room mothers will be picking students up at school at 2 p.m. and deliver them home after the cookout, which will end about 5:30 p.m. Rain date, Thursday, June 9.

The last meeting for Browne Troop #706 was Sunday, May 29, at Woodstock School. An awards ceremony was held. There will be no more Cub Scout meetings with Mrs. Adams.

Crescent Park weekly

Last Thursday all of CPS got to listen to Jim Chandler talk about the Oxford County Environmental Committee. He is going to help the 5th-graders plant three Colorado Blue Spruce.

On Friday there was a science fair. Each 4th-grader had a report, a poster and a model. I don't think I should announce the winners because they'll be in the paper anyway, but here are some people that did great without prizes: Billie Meader and John Tester were partners in their science project. Their topic was maple syrup. They had a movie showing them making maple syrup, a display of all the tools needed, a good report and a poster.

Carlin Kavanagh and Nate McVey did a project on lizards and salamanders. For their model they had a salamander and some other kinds of lizards. That was great.

CAR WASH THIS SATURDAY

WILL HELP KIDS GO TO SPAIN

There will be a Spanish Exchange car wash/bottle drive on Saturday, June 4, 9 a.m. to noon, at the SAD #44 bus garage, rain or shine.

This is the last major fundraiser before the Bethel area youngsters go to Mijas, Spain on June 20. This is a return visit, in exchange for the visit made here last summer by students from Mijas. The program is sponsored by the Bethel Rotary Club.

AGNES GRAY STUDENTS were jumping rope last Friday as part of the "Jump Rope for Heart" program. The students were in teams of six, with three jumping at a time. They switched roles every five minutes for a maximum of three hours. The activity was not only healthy fun, but was also a fundraiser, with the monies collected going to the American Heart Association. The three rope jumpers closest to the camera are Josh Dunham, Chad Chase and Scott Cote. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma)

By OLIVE R. DAVIS

There will be a housewarming for Ozie and Kellie Hart, Sunday, June 12, from 1 to 4 p.m. Please come to wish Ozie and Kellie good luck in their new log home. Thank you.

Lettie Brooks took Olive Davis, Lillian Curtis and Colista Morgan to Oxford Legion Hall to the Retired Teachers meeting Saturday. A delicious dinner was served at noon. The state president of the MRTA, Martha Smith, was the speaker of the afternoon. Plant sale was held. This money goes to the scholarship account.

Esther Davis spent Saturday with her daughter, Patricia Tibbets.

Olive and Esther Davis went to Bridgton, Monday.

Mary Fleming has been ill and in the Ledgeview Nursing Home awhile. We hope she is better now.

Mrs. Alanson Lovejoy is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway following surgery. Shane and Angela are staying with their grandparents, Cleve and Cathryn Lovejoy.

Alexander and Charlotte Gattig, of Bartlett, N.H., spent an afternoon with Olive Head one day last week.

George and Mary Stowell, of Falmouth, were luncheon guests of their parents, George and Harriett Stowell, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gilbert spent the long weekend at their camp on Lake Thompson. Jonathan and Rowena Stowell and family of Shirley, Mass., were their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barker, of Stafford Springs, Conn., have come to spend several weeks at their place at the Four Corners.

Summer school to meet on evening schedule

Telstar Evening Summer School will meet June 28-Aug. 4 on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, 5:30-9 p.m., at Telstar Regional High School.

This year is the first time the summer school has operated in the evening. The 60-hour courses offered, worth one-half credit each, are algebra, American history, art, biology, chemistry, English and graphic arts.

Several 30-hour, or one-quarter credit courses are computer literacy, physical education, study skills, typing and writing for college. These courses will be scheduled for two evenings a week. High school students and adults may enroll in these classes.

Office procedures is a one-evening-a-week course that coordinates with the typing class. These courses provide immediate job skills.

Driver Education, a combination of classroom work and individual driving time, is provided by Daigle's Driving School.

Anyone wishing to register, or to inquire for further information, should call 824-2780, the SAD #44 Adult Education Office.

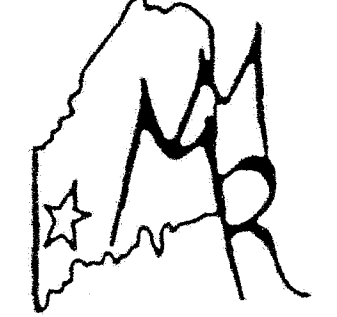

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Executive Director Robin Zinchuk reports:

The four-color brochure is finally ready to go to the printers. The business listing booklet mailings have gone out and we've received quite a bit of response but are still waiting for more to be returned. If you have not sent yours in, please do it today.

Mollycoddett Day planning is well underway. We are looking for volunteers. Please call the office if you have a couple of hours to spare on July 16.

The new directors are reminded that there will be a regular monthly board meeting next Thursday, June 9, at 7:30 a.m., at the Casco Bank. See you there.

Agnes Gray School

By MARTA CLEMENTS

These last few weeks of school are full of exciting events. Volunteers have brought the Tri-Town Ambulance twice. Mrs. Jane Chandler provided a look and an explanation for the 3rd-graders, and Mrs. Michelle Blake for the Kindergarten and 1st Grade. This provided a matter-of-fact, non-threatening means of becoming acquainted with a service vital to our community.

The Jump Rope for Heart activity provided a healthy physical education class and also raised some money for the American Heart Fund. The children have also been learning about keeping their own hearts in proper shape with good nutrition, no smoking and regular exercise. Grades 2-5 were involved. Refreshments added to the fun. Many thanks to all who helped make this project a success.

The final RIF (Reading Is Fundamental) give-away was held this past week. Children in Grades K-4 are given a book of their choice to keep and enjoy.

The Kindergarten and 1st Grades are continuing to practice for their cowboy music concert, which will be held in the gym on June 8, at 10:45. Parents and friends are invited!

Social Studies projects are in full swing. Grade 2 is continuing with their modern day farm unit and have made model farms. All kinds of boxes have been brought in. The 4th-graders are doing reports on the north central region of the United States. The 5th-graders are preparing units on presidents. They are learning the presidents in order as part of their overall project. The following students know at least the first 24 in order: Jessica Blake, Vanessa Bolstridge, Heather Brown, Maria Herick, Kenny Hill, Bethany Hutchinson, Alan Lovejoy, Starr Mowatt, and Christopher Tripp. The 5th-graders also enjoyed an outing in between showers this past week. They walked downtown for an ice cream and returned to school in time for a few minutes of free play before the buses came.

The 6th-graders are taking turns at being the Social Studies teachers. This is a popular activity, which involves more work than one would think. Their annual yearbook will be coming out next week. Students and parents are planning to be in the Memorial Day Parade. Eileen Mowatt's Brownie Girl Scouts are looking forward to it. They may be looking forward to their last regularly scheduled meeting, which is May 31. The Brownies will be involved in an open house early in June. Watch for further announcements.

LAST TUESDAY, MRS. OTERO-OTERO'S 1ST GRADE CLASS at Ethel Bisbee School took a trip to South Paris to meet their penpals from Mrs. Debra Seames' 1st Grade class at the Mildred Fox School. The students from the two schools met each other for the first time, had a picnic lunch in the park, and played games afterwards. The students had been writing to each other throughout the school year as a writing exercise, as well as a way to make new friends. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma)

STUDENTS INVITED TO JOIN YOUTH-RUN CORPORATION

Mike Walsh, of West Paris, will offer a unique opportunity for high school students this summer.

The Junior Entrepreneurs will consist of a group of four to 14 boys and girls to operate a business for the summer. Students will serve as corporate officials and on a board of directors of a practice corporation.

The object is to have a hands-on learning experience of how business works—from issuing stock to production to sales and even dividing up profits at the end of the season.

Anyone interested in participating should call 674-9240.

At this writing, several local youngsters are planning to be in the Memorial Day Parade. Eileen Mowatt's Brownie Girl Scouts are looking forward to it. They may be looking forward to their last regularly scheduled meeting, which is May 31. The Brownies will be involved in an open house early in June. Watch for further announcements.

LIONS NAME WOMAN OFFICER

A Bethel resident was recently installed as one of the nation's first female officers in the Lions Club in ceremonies conducted in Norway last Tuesday night.

Gertrude "Gert" Friel, 44, assumed the duties of Secretary-Treasurer of the Bethel Lions Club before a throng of 75 Lions and guests at the Goldstreet Restaurant. She was sworn in by Lions Club Deputy District Governor Frank Miller, of Bridgton.

Mr. Miller also inducted Chad Converse as "King Lion," or president, of the Bethel Club.

"District 41 is one of the nation's largest Lions Clubs," said Gert's husband, veteran Lion member Ed Friel. "The district is so big it is the only one in the world to fly three flags," he stated. District 41 encompasses all of Maine, the Maritime Provinces of Canada and two islands off the southern coast that belong to France, St. Pierre and Miquelon.

It is also one of the oldest districts in the Lions organization. When the previously all male Lions opened its membership to women in 1967, Gert, head chef at the Backstage Restaurant in Bethel, was one of the first women to be asked, the first in District 41, to join in the worldwide service organization.

The Friels, long-time Bethel residents, have helped raise numerous foster children in addition to eight of their own. Ed, a retired Army veteran, is a familiar figure around local streets, serving as street crossing guard for the Bethel elementary schools.

Something for everyone in Adult Ed programs

The Summer Session of SAD #44 Adult and Community Education will run from June 28 to Aug. 4, according to Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell. A flyer, describing course offerings and containing registration information, will be mailed to all postal patrons in SAD #44 and surrounding towns during the week of May 30.

Also included in the flyer is a description and listing of Telstar Evening Summer School courses, which are open to teens and adults. The Telstar Evening Summer School courses will appeal to adults who are in need of specialized courses for admission to college or vocational training programs. Traditional adult education courses will appeal to adults who are seeking a non-credit learning experience and courses shorter in duration than those offered as part of summer school. In addition, the Adult Education program will offer the usual GED preparation and testing services and brush-up work in basic skills for adults.

For further information, or to register for courses, interested individuals should call the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780.

STEPHANIE SMITH GRADUATES

BEATING THE THROW—Telstar's Nathan Miserocchi slides safely into second during last week's victory over Dirigo. In 1st place in the Mount Valley Conference, the Rebels completed the regular season with a record of 9-2 in their conference and 14-4 overall. They begin playoff action Sunday at their home field (game time and opponent to be announced). Full playoff games are scheduled for next Tuesday and Thursday, and Coach Brown has three solid pitchers to throw into action. Gary Williamson (Ricky Roy (2-2) and Jimmy Merrill (2-1) will all be ready to go if the Rebels advance toward the championship. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma)

Adult Ed graduation will confer diplomas on 10 students, June 7

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program will hold 1988 graduation ceremonies on Tuesday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m., in the Telstar High School cafeteria.

David Ackley, director of the University of Maine at Farmington's Rumford-Mexico Center, will be the graduation speaker. The highlight of the evening will be the awarding of high school diplomas and GED diplomas to 10 adults. Welcoming remarks will be offered by Superintendent of Schools Dewane Craig, Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell, and SAD #44 Board of Directors Chairman Merton Brown. Book awards will be presented to the graduates by teachers in the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program.

The class of 1988 for SAD #44 Adult and Community Education includes Robert Cook, of Bethel, Jeannette Coolidge, of Locke Mills, Anna Thurston, of Andover, Eric Fleer, of Bethel, Richard Littlefield, of Bethel, Janet Gould, of Albany, Bea Leonard, of Gilead, Anna Snyder, of Andover, and Jeff Walker, of Bryant Pond. A tenth student is expected to complete his GED testing in time for graduation.

The Adult Education graduates open to the public, and former students and teachers are especially invited. A brief reception will follow the ceremony.

NAZARENE CHURCH CHILD HOLDING CAN & BOTTLE D

At least eight young people between the ages of six to 12 years old are to earn their way to Camp Wake Christian camp owned by the Church of the Nazarene on beautiful Wash Pond.

The children will be gathering nable cans and bottles the first weekend in June. If you would donate and no one visits your home, contact one of the following:

Pastor John Clayton, 824-3020, Shimamura, 836-3354 (before 9:15 or Lorrene Cobb, 875-3606.

Your support will be appreciated by the children attending the camp: Ryan and Rusty Seames, Jeff Mason, Warren Thurston, Mandi and Donna Lawrence.

The Adult Education graduates open to the public, and former students and teachers are especially invited. A brief reception will follow the ceremony.

Something for everyone in Adult Ed programs

The Summer Session of SAD #44 Adult and Community Education will run from June 28 to Aug. 4, according to Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell. A flyer, describing course offerings and containing registration information, will be mailed to all postal patrons in SAD #44 and surrounding towns during the week of May 30.

Also included in the flyer is a description and listing of Telstar Evening Summer School courses, which are open to teens and adults. The Telstar Evening Summer School courses will appeal to adults who are in need of specialized courses for admission to college or vocational training programs. Traditional adult education courses will appeal to adults who are seeking a non-credit learning experience and courses shorter in duration than those offered as part of summer school. In addition, the Adult Education program will offer the usual GED preparation and testing services and brush-up work in basic skills for adults.

For further information, or to register for courses, interested individuals should call the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education office, 624-2793.

I wonder how many folks have grown web feet with all the damp, drizzly weather we have been having. Of course, yesterday was no drizzly day but a real rainy day, all day. Good weather for ducks, I guess.

Peggy drove Russell and me to town on Friday of last week to get our groceries and we did several other errands while in town. In the afternoon, I fixed up some flowers getting them ready for the cemetery. Haven't gotten them there as yet but they are ready when we are.

Russell had some plants come so was interested in seeing what they were and what condition they were in, as they were from a different company than usual. You get the plants all started in a substance ready to put them into the ground and not have to start them from seeds or something like that. All seemed in good condition but time will tell how well they do. With all the plants Russell has set out and the ones he has left to set out, we should be real pretty around here. He has lots of flowers growing and more to plant. Don't know where they will all go but he will find room somewhere, I'm sure.

Have finally got started doing a little house cleaning. A little at a time, that's how I have to do it. It does seem good to be able to do more now and that's why I have started cleaning. Got to get it done somehow.

Peggy went to the dance in Greene Saturday night, with Charlotte Cole and friends. Russell decided to stay home so he and I played cards all evening. Trouble was he only let me win one game all evening. That's the way things go.

Did a little more cupboard cleaning on Sunday. Rainy, so Peggy decided to go up to West Bethel to visit Loretta for awhile. Came back in the middle of the afternoon to help mow lawns. Russell was using his weed whacker and had gotten part of it done.

Finished cleaning the kitchen cupboards on Monday, but still have windows and odd things to do to finish the whole kitchen. Did some wash and just hoped it would get dry and it did. Clouded in in the afternoon and drizzled, so was glad I got the wash done in time. Peggy and I walked down to visit with Carolyn and David Yates in the evening. Carolyn had sprained her ankle and had not been able to work that day. She was hoping to go to work the next day as she thought she could do jobs that didn't require her to stand all day.

Got up and made banana bread on Tuesday morning. Russell had picked up some ripe bananas when he got groceries on Friday and in that way told me that he would like some banana bread. Went to North Bridgton to see Dr. Jealous, and when I came home I went to work getting juice from some frozen raspberries that needed to be used up. It took time and was quite a job but made a batch of jelly. That one batch gave me all I wanted so gave the rest of the juice to Peggy to make jelly with. She said she added a little crushed pineapple to make enough for a double batch and she got 23 jars, as I had. It sure tastes good and will get used up. I didn't sit down hardly at all all day and I knew it when I was through. The infections I had in February and March lasted so long they took lots of gimp out of me so it has taken a long time to get back to doing what I want to.

Wednesday morning I decided to make the pumpkin cake loaves that I had told Wynona I would make for her and her buffet after her adult graduation a week from Friday. I put lots of goodies into the batter to make it special and made six loaves so she should have all she wants of that. I like to do such things and make up my own recipes sometimes. Have to if I want to have things to eat like the others as I can't have wheat much, or eggs or milk, and about everything you make takes one of them and sometimes all three. It is fun to create. After that I took it easy and didn't do too much. The rain made it so dark that I didn't try to sew. Need good light for that. I did crochet a little. Making a dolly from scratch and trying to copy the pattern as I go along. I enjoy doing that, also. Much more interesting than just following a pattern someone else has made up and not as difficult as one would think.

I, like others who write for the paper, would like news from the neighbors. I send my writing in on Thursdays and would welcome any news to write about. Give me a call at 674-3872. I will be most grateful for any good items.

It is wonderful to see the changes that have taken place in the leaves on the trees. How fast Mother Nature makes things grow in the springtime. So many lovely flowers in bloom and it makes it more interesting as one rides along the road. I love to watch and see all the different kinds of flowers in the many yards, where ever I go.

Just got some news and a little late getting it in, but better late than never, so here goes. The sale at West Paris Grange

TELSTAR'S MINDY ROBINSON scores easily during last Monday's match-up against Dirigo. The Rebel's finished the regular season ranked second in the Mountain Valley Conference, with a conference record of 10-2 and an overall record of 14-2. They begin playoff action Saturday at home (game time and opponent to be announced). Led by the league's premier pitcher, Heidi Belanger, the Rebels are an aggressive, well-drilled team quick to take advantage of any openings the opposition allows. (Photo by Jeanne Boelsma) on May 14 was a great success and thanks to all who came to make it so. David Small, of Kennebunkport, spent the weekend of May 7 with the Archie Lovejoys. Sunday, Mother's Day, John and Robert Small, of Kennebunkport, visited, also. Friday, May 13, Glen Virge arrived to spend the weekend. He also called on his great aunt, Mrs. Linwood Emmons, who lives on the Harrison Road. Sunday, the Lovejoys took Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mack to visit cemeteries in Milo, Dover South Mills and Canton. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner, in Palmyra, on the way home. Helena Bartlett spent some time with Mary Lovejoy on Thursday. Thanks for the news Mary. Glad to get it and hope for more.

Don't forget the dance at West Paris Grange Hall on June 4. Come and enjoy a good time as usual.

Hope everyone has a grand weekend and that we get to see some sun to help us dry out a bit.

Maine Line Products expanding into Gorham

Maine Line Products, of Bethel, will open a second store at 129 Main St., in Gorham, N.H.

The company was formed in 1979, doing mail order and wholesale distribution of Maine crafts. In 1981 they opened their retail store in Bethel and expanded their line to include gifts from New England and all parts of the U.S.

For the past several years, Maine Line has had seasonal Christmas displays at the Auburn Mall, Promenade Mall and Windham Mall. At the present time Maine Line employs six people.

Owners Richard and Ellen Whitney, of Bethel, are excited about their new location. "We have always liked Gorham and have been interested in this area for several years," Mr. Whitney said. "We are very glad to have this opportunity and look forward to meeting the local residents and becoming a part of the business community."

Maine Line's Gorham store will feature a wide selection of American-made gifts, including wooden buckets, stuffed animals, lamps, pottery and the famous Maine Woodsman's Weatherstick.

They will also be selling an interesting and varied assortment of New England foods. Lamp repair will be an additional service available through the store.

Maine Line Products in Gorham will be open seven days a week throughout the summer. After Labor Day hours will be Wednesday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Mr. Whitney said that in order to attend trade shows and prepare for the oncoming summer the store will be closed in March and April of 1989, except weekends.

A June 18 grand opening is planned. Free coffee and donuts will be served and there will be many surprise specials.

ALBANY IMPROVEMENT ASSOC. MEETS JUNE 13, AT TOWN HALL

The Albany Improvement Association will meet Monday, June 13, 7 p.m., at the Albany Town Hall.

At the May association meeting, members were reminded of the June 14 Primaries and that the Town Hall needs to be cleaned. Cleaning the antique metal ceiling had been started, which is a difficult, time-consuming task. May 15 and 22 were chosen as additional cleanup days at the hall. Norma Salway, Terry Perry, Christine Kimball, Merideth White, Pam and Carlton Rugg and Roberta White donated time and energies to scrubbing the walls and ceiling. Robert Anderson, Rodney Kimball, David Salway, Tim Kavanagh, John Kimball and Carlton Rugg worked hard to repair the floor.

President Tim Kavanagh suggested a town cleanup day. "I would love to see a community day. Maybe end it with a picnic," he said. Such a day will be discussed at a future meeting.

It was mentioned that the Land Use Regulation Commission (LURC) had not been in contact with the association for quite a while. Member David Salway heads a committee that is working with LURC regarding new construction in the township. Several new building permits have been sought through LURC and it was suggested to contact LURC again.

Mr. Salway noted the need for several people to work the June 14 primary. Some of the members present offered to count votes and two people offered to work during the day. Voting hours were set from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

On June 11, 5 p.m., a benefit supper will be held at the Albany Hunt's Corner Church, sponsored by the Albany Improvement Association and the Albany Congregational Church, to benefit Maria Perkins and family.

I wonder why Tumbledown Mountain is uppermost in my mind this May morning. I've climbed it twice and probably will never climb it again. The sun isn't shining, but in my mind's eye I can see an attractive, alpine lake, nestled in the cool between Tumbledown and Little Jackson mountains. It has been nearly 11 years since my second climb there when I went with Ruth, but it remains vivid in my memory. We climbed many mountains, but Tumbledown and Caribou are the two most clearly remembered.

Tumbledown had several trails and we chose Parker's Ridge Trail, which I had gone up before and was told was the easiest. The mountain is 3,035 feet high. But the one I'm climbing today, as I sit here is really easy. So here we go, down memory lane.

We left the car by the road and began our journey where dried grasses spoke to us as they touched one another in the breeze. The trail was streaked and mottled with shadow-spun brocade, while by our side a brook peacefully and dreamily chuckled its monologue.

The trail became rough at once very soon, so we had to use common sense precautions and keep ever alert. The rise at first was gradual. The sun flamed overhead and brought out the perfume of spicy plants and trees as it rose from the forest.

The trail led around and ever up but no peaks could we see above us. We thought it a delight to tramp along, feeling the warmth of vigorous exercise. At this point we did not know how vigorous it was about to be before we reached the summit.

We advanced slowly, noting the ferns, gnarled limbs and lichens encrusted on the rocks or limbs.

After considerable time, we were resting, as a man appeared coming down the trail. I asked him if we were nearing the top. He said, "I'm sorry to tell you that you are about half way, and it's steep and steeper from here on."

We took another look at the sunshine as it splashed an opening and streaked the smooth trunks of the beeches. It spotlighted the cushions of moss among the twisted roots and glistened like new varnish on the leaves.

Soon we were at a spot where we could see Webb Lake, Mt. Blue and Mt. Blue home base. We slid, we crawled, we walked but we did not fall.

We reached the car at 4:45 with the hours of toil behind us, tired and grimy as we were we could still "fall a dream" before the marvelous beauty we had seen from the top.

Our moose has again arrived, and the pair of Canada geese are still with us. Callers at Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis were Ruth Collins and Evelyn Heikkinen.

Ann Holl, Bethel, was with her parents here on Sunday.

MARGIE S. LOWE

Margie S. Lowe, 90, of Bryant Pond, died May 30, 1988 at the Ledgeview Memorial Home, West Paris, where she had been a patient 12 years.

She was born at Bryant Pond April 25, 1898, the daughter of J. Colby and Annie Couture Staples. She attended Woodstock schools and was employed for many years at the Stowell Silk Spool Co. until retirement in 1965. She is survived by two daughters, Muriel Raymond, of Bryant Pond, and Evelyn Waite, of North Yarmouth. She was predeceased by a grandson.

Graveside services will be held today (Wednesday) at Lakeside Cemetery, Bryant Pond. Those who wish may make donations to the Activity Fund, c/o Elvis Harlow, Ledgeview Memorial Home, RFD #1, Box 3420, West Paris, 04289.

Upton

By ARLINE BERNIER

Our sympathies are extended to the families and relatives of Pearl Weston. Sometime after Pearl had moved away and was married she heard that I would be making trips to a distant, large hospital and she called offering to go with me as she was acquainted with the complex. I had only recently acquired a driver's license and her calm, casual manner was exactly what I needed to get me through that difficult period.

Mary Davis and Lucille Largesse hosted a babyshower for their grandchild expected in July and mother Perdita at the Largesse home in Upton. About 30 relatives and friends attended.

Thursday Laurie, Roland, Arline and Chantal Laughton, of Colebrook, attended the commencement exercise of the Central Maine Medical Center School of Nursing, Class of 1988, at Bates College Chapel in Lewiston. Anne Atwood was one of the 24 graduates and she received a medical award.

Anita, Mardie, Kara, Jamie Edwards and I went to Andover Friday morning. Suddenly, through the fog, three moose stepped out into the road ahead. They glanced at Anita's truck and began to run three abreast in the road ahead of us. About a half-mile further they turned left onto a woods road. The smaller of the three fell as he made the sharp turn onto the wet sand and dirt and the three adults gasped in unison. He got up quickly and was running without a limp. Now that was awesome.

We enjoyed the Senior Citizen meal and fellowship in Andover on the grand opening day, May 17.

THANK YOU

Thanks to everyone for the cards, flowers and visits while I was in the hospitals and since my return home.

Telstar track athletes going to state meet

A number of Telstar track and field athletes will be going to the state meet Saturday, thanks to excellent finishes in the Western Maine regional meet at Bowdoin last Saturday.

The girls will be represented by Amy Blake, Deb Bodwell, Sherry Nichols, Ellen Hastings, Christine Hunt, Jenn Gould and Tracey Weston.

Danny Thurston, Jamie Blake and Robbie Shields will represent the boys.

At the regionals, Amy Blake won the 300-meter hurdles, setting a new school record, with a time of 49.6 seconds. Deb Bodwell placed in three events—the shot put, the long jump and the 400-meter relay.

The other school record broken last Saturday was by the 1600-meter relay team of Sherry Nichols, Christine Hunt, Ellen Hastings and Amy Blake.

Among the boys last Saturday, Danny Thurston's leap of 9-feet 6-inches in the pole vault placed him in the top six. Jamie Blake's jump of 18-feet 3-inches in the long jump qualified him for the state. And Robbie Shields' toss of 176-feet 8-inches made him the top seed in Class C. His throw not only set a new school record but was the best throw in the entire state.

YOUNG TREE PLANTERS were digging up the turf at Crescent Park School last Thursday. Under the direction of Jim Chandler, of the Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District, the students planted three Colorado blue spruce trees. The trees were donated by Western Maine Nurseries, in Fryeburg. Shown planting a tree is Linda Wheeler's 5th Grade class. Seneca Brooke is digging the hole, while Amanda Smith holds the tree. The month of May was soil and water stewardship month, which is what prompted Mr. Chandler's visit to the school.

Tri-Town Rescue

Michelle Blake reports:

Members of Tri-Town Rescue have had a busy month of May, with attention participating in a two-day, 16-hour "rapid extraction" course held in Woodstock. All who attended were impressed with skills learned in this intense two-day seminar.

Auxiliary members have been gearing up all month for the annual "bike/walk-a-thon" held last Sunday. Participants walked 10 miles and enjoyed a beautiful day in the sun. Their efforts, combined with generosity of their sponsors, raised over $900 for the Rescue Service.

Funds raised from this and other activities this year will help purchase a new ambulance in 1989.

Many thanks to all those who continue to support Tri-Town Rescue in their efforts to better serve West Paris, Sumner, Woodstock and Greenwood.

ed over $900 for the Rescue Service. Funds raised from this and other activities this year will help purchase a new ambulance in 1989.

Many thanks to all those who continue to support Tri-Town Rescue in their efforts to better serve West Paris, Sumner, Woodstock and Greenwood.

Having a party, reunion, sale, whatever?

I have a 20'X40' tent for rent.

Will put it up and take it down - 3 days for $150.00
